The Cash Concern... Going Out of Business

ENTIRE STOCK OF MERCHANDISE AND STORE FIXTURES, ALSO
HORSE, BUGGY AND WAGON, TO BE SACRIFICED FOR THE CASH!

The announcement has heretofore been made in the public prints that J. J. & W. H. Chandler will close out their business in Statesboro on January 1st and move to another State. Many of our customers have perhaps already learned of this intention. All will be interested in the announcement insofar as it means closing out our stock at slaughter prices.

Stocks of merchandise cannot be moved without heavy freight expense, and freight bills eat up profits. We would rather move ours in cash than in merchandise, and for that reason we have resolved to put the knife to our already closely-cut prices, and beginning Saturday, Oct. 12th, and continuing until everything is sold, we will offer our entire stock at prices that will mean money saved to those who buy.

Our methods of doing business are well understood. It has been our policy to always sell at the lowest possible price and yet retain a living profit. We have never attempted to fake the people with "below cost" sales, and positively assert that we could not do satisfactory business on any such lines. What we propose to do, and WILL DO NOW, is to sell at a closer margin than ever during this sale. You can't afford to miss these offerings!

Bear in mind that we have only been in business here about two years, and have no old stock to work off at this sale!

Woodward and Hadden

Bound to Higher Court

W. E. Woodward and A. L. Hadden, two young white men arrested last week on suspicion of complicity in the Register bank robbery, were given a preliminary hearing before Judge Holland yesterday, and were bound over to the superior court.

Neither of the prisoners made a statement before the court, nor were they represented by counsel. While being carried back to the jail, one of the men declared that they were the victims of suspicious circumstances, but that they were innocent of any connection with the crime charged. Superior court will convene within two weeks, and the case against the accused will be presented to the grand jury.

The most incriminating circumstance against the prisoners is the fact that one of them wore a shoe which made a track corresponding with the tracks about the burglarized bank building. The sole of the shoe was worn in two, and the track was very conspicuous on that account.

Woodward and Hadden give Augusta as their home, but say they have been away from there for several weeks. They were arrested near Pulaski on Monday of last week following the robbery of the Register bank the night before. Over $500 was taken from the bank, though none of the cash was found on the prisoners when arrested.

NEEDED THAT OTHER ROOT

Patients of Dentists Will Appreciate Story of "Nerve" That Comes From Kansas City.

In Kansas City there dwells a man whose boast is that he has "the nerve," and at least one dental surgeon will support him in his claim. The man with "the nerve" suffered from the pangs of an aching molar and at last sought out his friend the dentist and announced that the tooth must come out. The man with the nerve made a hasty examination and suggested that a filling would relieve the agony, but to no avail.

"That tooth must be pulled," said the "nerve man," "but I want to warn you right now, Doc, that you won't get it the first yank. I have had seven teeth drawn and no dentist lives who can pull one of my teeth the first trial."

The dentist prides himself with the numerous compliments paid him for dexterity in extraction and "the nerve" man's words were a challenge. "I'll get that tooth the very first time I pull it!"

"But you the drinks you don't," was the patient's retort.

"Done," said the doctor. The professional man motioned his patient to the operating chair and selected the proper forceps. The cold steel clamped firmly on the tooth, and with a slightly rocking motion the dentist began to pull. The tooth held firm and it looked as if the dentist's reputation as an extractor must suffer. At last, just as little beads of sweat were forming on the operator's brow, he smiled and in another second the three-pronged cause of the trouble lay on the swinging bracket by the dental chair.

No word or sign had been given by the sufferer, who then raised from the chair, grasped the removed tooth in his fingers and gazed at its three roots in contemplation.

There was a tone of real sadness in his voice as he regretfully said: "If that thing had only had another root, I'd have won the drinks."—Kansas City Journal.

WAS TAKING NO CHANCES

Casey Unwilling to Take the Word of His Rival When It Would End Hostilities.

It had come to blows at last. After many threats and sundry fire-shaking, not to mention old brick-bats were thrown, Casey and Riley determined to "have it out," so they adjourned to a neighborhood saloon, followed by an enthusiastic, admiring crowd.

Worried High Official.

Custody of the great seal is one of the most important duties undertaken by the British lord chancellor in return for his $50,000 a year. This responsibility gave Lord Brougham an unhappy time during his tenure of the chancellorship. When staying with the duke of Bedford, in Scotland, some of the women in the house amused themselves by abstracting the seal from Brougham's room. The chancellor was so frantic when he discovered the loss that his tormentors promised to restore it on condition that he would resign. So they blindfolded him, hid the seal in the drawing room, and told him to find it, guiding him in his search by a tune on the piano, which grew louder when he drew near it and softer when he drew away. After an hour's scrambling the seal was found in a tea caddy.

Judicial Spelling.
A probate judge in western Kansas wrote to the judge of the juvenile court in Kansas City asking for information as to how the court should be conducted. He spelled it "juva-nile" first, then "juv-nile," and finally "juv-anile"; three tries, and a clean miss in all three. Charles Blakesley of Kansas City recalls that there was once a probate judge in his town who spelled it "probat jug" and a constable who used to spell his own title "fucible." The celebrated Judge Nogels of Wisconsin, and a good judge he was, too, once told a prisoner at his bar that he, the court, knew the man to be a fraud as certainly as if he saw the letters P-R-O-A-D stamped on his forehead.—New York Mail.

Protection During Fog.
Two brothers named Hodgekiss have invented an apparatus which acting as "ears" for a ship will afford a protection now lacking in time of fog. Tests in the Mersey at Liverpool appear to substantiate the claims made for this invention, that it will definitely determine the direction of sounds. The invention consists of a drum nine feet long by five feet in diameter set up aloft so as to miss sounds on deck, but to receive other sounds from a "receiver" divided into units for each direction. An electrical appliance connected with a lamp shows by a small light the direction whence the sound may be coming.

WHO ARE JURORS FOR THE SUPERIOR COURT?

WHO MADE TANGLE, AND HOW WILL IT BE STRAIGHTENED?

Who will serve as jurors in the superior court next week? That is the question that yet seems in doubt. Sufficient jurors for the job have been drawn, have been subpoenaed, and will be at court, but there is still a tangle to be straightened. Judge Rawlings will, of course, get the matter straight, and court will proceed, but just how it will be done is the interesting question.

At the conclusion of court last April, juries for October court were drawn according to custom. These have been regularly subpoenaed, but it has been discovered that of the thirty drawn as grand jurors, only eleven are eligible as such. The other nineteen are eligible as traverse jurors only. It also transpires that of the traverse jurors the first twenty-five drawn are eligible as grand jurors, and also a majority of the remaining number. All grand jurors are eligible for service as traverse jurors, but many traverse jurors are not eligible as grand jurors. Their names are kept in separate receptacles of the jury box. It becomes apparent in the present case that at some time the jurors' names have become mixed. The lists as drawn at last term of court are as follows:

STATE GETS MONEY TO PAY ITS BILLS

Governor Brown Secures Loan of $200,000

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 19.—Governor Brown has borrowed from the Park National Bank of New York for 90 days, at three per cent, $200,000 with which to meet the state's expenses between this time and December 20, the date upon which the state taxes will begin coming in.

The governor has obtained this money with the understanding that if, at any time within the ninety days, the state should be able to retire any of the loan it shall be permitted to do so and receive credit for the unearned interest.

It is the purpose of the state executive to pay up the accounts of the state sanitarium, the school for the deaf, the school for the blind and the University of Georgia. He hopes to be able to pay the common school teachers a dividend of not less than four and possibly five per cent of their appropriations from this borrowed sum.

This is the first time in many years that the state has managed to go as late as October without borrowing. The usual borrowing time has been August or September.

The governor believes that all accounts may be met without embarrassment to the state now—certainly until the December 1, any way. If there should be fifteen or twenty days yet to be looked after, the executive believes he can arrange with the banks to carry the state for the next few days.

The borrowed funds are now available for the governor's warrants.

A TRIED AND PROVED GUARANTEE

Man Bought a Bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. Then Took It Back, Asked for His Money and Got It.

A man recently tried out the guarantee which W. H. Ellis Co. gives with every bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. He bought a bottle and then went back to the drug store and said the medicine hadn't helped him.

This druggist just reached into his cash register and took out a half dollar, the price of the bottle of Liver Tonic, and handed it back to the gentleman. But he didn't take the money. He owned up that he was just trying the guarantee, and as a matter of fact, he had found Dodson's Liver Tonic the best remedy for constipation and biliousness he had ever tried.

"Why," he said, "my wife wouldn't be without a bottle in the house for anything. It's the best thing in the world for the whole family, and the medicine that I prefer to take or give to my children for a lazy liver."

W. H. Ellis Co. sells Dodson's Liver Tonic and guarantees it to cure anything. It is taking the place of calomel everywhere. If you buy a bottle and don't find this pleasant-tasting vegetable liquid the best thing to take a lazy liver, they will hand your money back with a smile.—Adv.

ADDRESS TO BOYS' BULLOCK COUNTY CORN CLUB

MR. HENDRICKS URGES ACTIVITY IN REGARD TO SAVANNAH CORN SHOW

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 19, 1912. I am exceedingly anxious that the South-east Georgia Boys' Corn Clubs shall make a great showing here at the Savannah contest November 26th-29th.

I have made arrangements with the directors of our association to set apart a special day, November 26th, to be known as "Boys' Corn Club Day." As a further consideration, arrangements have been made for a South-east Georgia Boys' Corn Clubs parade. Every corn club boy is invited to come with a stalk of corn to carry on his shoulder as he marches in this parade through the streets of the town to the corn clubs exhibit grounds. The exposition band will head the parade. Corn club boys of each county should march together under a banner bearing the name of the county, which should be carried by one or more of the members at the head of the county delegation. Do not fail to be here by 10 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 26th.

The Bullock county contest will be held at Statesboro on Oct. 30th. Do not fail to send ten ears of corn to your county exhibit. The county exhibit will be carried to the Savannah Corn Show, also to the Atlanta Corn Show Nov. 26th to 29th. If you fail, however, to send your ten ears of corn to your county fair or contest, then you should send the ten ears of corn direct to me. The express charges will be free if you will send to me for shipping tags before shipping it. If there is no corn club contest in your county, then your corn should be sent direct to me. In this case please write me for shipping tags, which will be sent upon request. Several hundred dollars in prizes are offered by the Savannah and Atlanta corn shows for individual and county club exhibits.

I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you here at the South-east Georgia Boys' Corn Clubs parade Nov. 26th. If you have not already let me know about your coming, I should like for you to do so, in order that I may make arrangements for you.

Congressman Chas. G. Edwards will be present and speak. Very truly,

The Approaching Bond Election.

If one may judge from the small attendance at the citizens' meeting at the court house last Friday night to discuss the proposed sewerage bond election, interest in the matter is practically nothing. Out of a voting population of approximately three hundred, only thirty-seven citizens were present. That the majority of those present were in favor of bonds, was manifest almost to the point of unanimity. While there were only a few present, some of those who were there are among the foremost leaders of the city, who are always looked to by the people on every question of importance. Their unanimous expression was in favor of it, and their challenge to the opposition to "show its head" apparently fell on deaf ears.

The question was asked at this meeting on what grounds the opposition was based. So far as the TIMES has heard, there are only two obstacles in the way: One is, what streets are to be sewered, and the other is the question of cost.

This first question was definitely answered by the statement that the sewers will extend to every part of the city. The answer to the second question is not so definite. Some of the more enthusiastic advocates of the proposition promise that the cost to the taxpayers will be nothing. Others admit that the interest on $54,000 of 30-year bonds and the sinking fund will be $4,500 to start with; and they also admit that the taxpayers of Statesboro, or somebody for them, will be required to pay this amount. This sum, it is admitted, will have to be raised by an increased tax rate of about $2.25 on each $1,000 worth of property, or by a corresponding increase in tax values.

In its last analysis, the questions of cost and ability to pay will be the controlling points in the election. There can be no arguments advanced against the convenience and benefit of sewerage. It will be readily admitted that, as an aid to the sanitation of the city, a sewerage system should make the health of the people more secure. There are times, however, that one may admit the desirability of a thing while hesitating on the question of ability to pay. Such is the attitude of those who occasionally are heard to express themselves in opposition to the sewerage bonds.

From present indications, there seems to be no doubt of a two-thirds majority in favor of the bonds. When it is understood that the benefits are to extend to every part of the city, which is stated by those in charge of the city's affairs, and that the burden will fall proportionately on the rich and poor, it may be expected that the opposition will become even less.

The People Demand It.

"Paducah, Ky., Jan. 9, 1909. 'You may ship us the ten gross Mendhall's Chill and Fever Tonic mentioned in your issue of the 17th. We will have more of your Chill Tonic than any other. It appears that the people demand it.'"

Some scientists how claim that the earth is hollow and open at both ends. If this is true, here is a chance to "get on the inside" that eastern capitalists have overlooked.

C. P. Lee, one of the best known citizens of Walton county, Ga., states: "I am now 78 years old, and have had kidney trouble many years. I had rheumatic pains in my legs, and my back gave me great pain. I took Foley Kidney Pills, and will say before anything I have ever taken." Sold by Franklin Drug Co.—Adv.

ROOSEVELT'S VISIT TO GA.

WILL AVAIL HIM NOTHING

PEOPLE ARE "ONTO" WAYS OF BULL MOOSE CANDIDATE

(From Atlanta Journal of Sept. 29.) Here's your hat, Colonel. The South isn't in your ring. It's high time you were hurrying home.

You seem to have mistaken the South for an African game trail where the natives will flock to dance for your sport and gaze spellbound on your strange trappings. In a game of sanctity, you come to convert what you derisively call the solid South; but be not deceived. Doughty Colonel, for the eyes of this section have pierced your missionary make-up and they see you as the political adventurer you are. The Southern people have longer memories than you imagine. They have not forgotten your scorn of their heroes and their dead but sacred cause in the days when you cared nothing for Southern votes.

Go home, Colonel; go home, and gale yourself on those pages in which you belittled and falsified the lives of Southern leaders. If you fancy that the pharisee pose you have recently assumed on the negro question will win you this section's support, you are pitifully deceived. You have straddled this issue in both the North and the South, fraternizing him there and exhorting him here.

Go home, Colonel; go home, and apologize as best you can to the colored brethren, whom you consider your "equals" in the North; but as for the South, what you have done speaks so loudly that we cannot hear what you say. By turns you wear the lion's and the ass' skins. In one breath you clamor for industrial justice and in the next you legalize monopoly. You denounce the bosses one moment and the next take them to your bosom. You preach pure politics while your own hands are dripping with campaign fat from the interests. In truth you stand at Armageddon and you battle for the trusts.

Go home, Colonel.

The eastern girl who insisted on being married in short skirts evidently wanted to demonstrate to the guests that she was not marrying because of a lack of means of support.

C. E. Atkinson, Harlan, Ga., reports that he has been a constant user of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in his family for years, "because it gives them relief from coughs and colds immediately, and I regard it an infallible remedy and a safe one for our children." Sold by Franklin Drug Co.—Adv.

An eastern clergyman, who conducts a service especially for men, furnishes cigars and allows his hearers to smoke during the service—probably figuring that where there is so much smoke there must be some religious fire.

CITIZENS DISCUSS SEWERAGE

AT MEETING IN COURT HOUSE

SENTIMENT OF THOSE PRESENT APPARENTLY STRONG FOR BONDS

Thirty-seven citizens attended a meeting in the court house last Friday evening, at which the question of sewerage bonds was more or less freely discussed. Mayor J. A. McDougald presided, and brief talks favoring bonds were made by Messrs. J. A. Brannen and G. S. Johnston and Dr. A. J. Mooney. Remarks were asked for from those who might not favor the project, and some few scattering questions were put by various persons. These questions pertained chiefly to the subject of cost of installation and maintenance of the proposed improvement. Such information as was at hand was given in answer to these inquiries. Concisely stated, the TIMES understands the status of the proposition to be about this:

From a survey made by an Atlanta firm two years or more ago, it was estimated that a sewerage system adequate to the needs at that time could be installed for about $44,000. This consisted of main (20-inch) pipes on the four principal streets, with 12-, 8- and 4-inch pipes throughout other portions of the city. The proposed sewerage at that time included only one pipe west of the "big ditch."

That being the right arm of West Main street. It did not include any pipe on Elm street, leading to the negro quarters, nor in the territory adjacent to the negro school house. Highland Park was also omitted, except that portion contiguous to Savannah avenue. The council estimates that $10,000 will cover those streets not included in the estimate at that time, and are calling for an election for $54,000.

The cost of the work is only an estimate by the civil engineers, and is not a bid. If the work can be done for less, it is proposed to issue bonds only for the amount required.

The probable cost to each individual for connection with the sewerage will depend on the individual distance of the closets from the street. The cost, it is estimated, will be from $15 to $25 for piping, with probably as much more required for accessories. As to the continued cost of the service—whether there will be a monthly or annual charge for water supply—is a matter on which no light was offered. Altogether the discussion was quite interesting; whether it resulted in any changes of sentiment can be seen when the election is held Nov. 14th.

Williams-Purvis.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage, early in November, of Miss Ouida Williams and Mr. Troy Purvis.

The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Williams, and is a young woman of many charms. Mr. Purvis is a bookkeeper in the Sea Island Bank and has a large circle of friends.

For Sale.

Thirty-two acres of good farm land, near Metter. Will be inside of town incorporation within a few months. One five room dwelling, barn, and out houses. Terms reasonable, write for full information. Also one ten-horse engine and boiler. Write box No. 25, Metter, Ga.

Market Way Off.

That the bottom has about dropped out of the local live stock market would readily be judged from the fact that a pair of mules, sold at public outcry by the sheriff a few days ago, brought only $1.50.

They were the property of Warren Jones, and were sold under an execution in favor of the Hilton-Dodge Lumber Co. Many who saw them consider them well sold at the price.

Dog Lost.

Strayed away from me on the public road near the Sinkhole bridge about August 10th, female pointer puppy about ten months old, white with liver-colored ear and liver spot on rump; answers to name "Bell." Information will be thankfully received.

For Sale, a good, gentle buggy horse.

The Cash Concern... Going Out of Business

ENTIRE STOCK OF MERCHANDISE AND STORE FIXTURES, ALSO
HORSE, BUGGY AND WAGON, TO BE SACRIFICED FOR THE CASH!

The announcement has heretofore been made in the public prints that J. J. & W. H. Chandler will close out their business in Statesboro on January 1st and move to another State. Many of our customers have perhaps already learned of this intention. All will be interested in the announcement insofar as it means the closing out of our stock at slaughter prices.

Stocks of merchandise cannot be moved without heavy freight expense, and freight bills eat up profits. We would rather move ours in cash than in merchandise, and for that reason we have resolved to put the knife to our already closely-cut prices. From this date until every article in our store is sold we will offer our entire stock at prices that will mean big money saved to those who buy.

Our methods of doing business are well understood. It has been our policy to always sell at the lowest possible price and yet retain a living profit. We have never attempted to fake the people with "below cost" sales, and positively assert that we could not do satisfactory business on any such lines. What we propose to do, and WILL DO now, is to sell at a closer margin than ever during this sale. You just can't afford to miss these offerings!

Bear in mind that we have only been in business here about two years, and have no old stock to work off at this sale!

Using Red Devil Pulverized Lye you don't have to guess, you measure just the amount necessary.

THE only objection to using lye in washing is the danger of using too much. You can't get it too hard to use, but with Red Devil Pulverized Lye you measure it with a spoon and get just the right amount.

FOR WASHING. Add a teaspoonful of this Red Devil Pulverized Lye to each three gallons of cold water. It dissolves it a few moments. Use the clothes soap, then rinse. The dirt comes out easily and the clothes are white and clean. But little rinsing is necessary. Makes hard water soft.

Hard Soap made in fifteen minutes, without boiling, if you use RED DEVIL PULVERIZED LYE.

When court opened this morning there was no intimation that the accused would make a confession. His attorneys had sought stubbornly since the beginning of the case to break down the strong evidence developed by the prosecution's little girl witnesses.

Immediately after court opened today, attorneys of both sides consulted, resulting in an agreement to let Vaughn confess, in an effort to save his own life, and that the case would go to the jury without argument.

"I have acted devilishly; I have acted shamelessly," began Vaughn.

Vaughn was expelled from his Odd Fellows lodge, and this order is pushing the prosecution. Governor Bleas has provided for his trial by ordering a special term of the court of general sessions, appointing R. O. Purdy special judge. Vaughn is married.

MINISTER CONFESSES CRIME; PAY PENALTY WITH HIS LIFE

HAD COMMITTED WHORNS UPON LITTLE GIRLS IN HIS CARE

Greenville, S. C., Oct. 26.—Found guilty today of assaulting three little girls in the South Carolina Odd Fellows Home, of which he was superintendent, the Rev. Thurston U. Vaughn, once prominent as a minister, will pay the penalty of his misdeeds with his life.

The trial was brought to a sensational close when Vaughn broke down and confessed. He named two other victims in addition to those included in the indictment.

The jury, out but four minutes, made no recommendations to mercy. This means that Vaughn will be sentenced to the electric chair.

Tears streamed down the face of Judge Purdy, named by Governor Bleas as special judge for this trial. Many jurors, court officials and spectators alike made no pretense of hiding their tears as Vaughn, pale and broken, acknowledged his crime. Many jurors wept aloud.

"When court opened this morning there was no intimation that the accused would make a confession. His attorneys had sought stubbornly since the beginning of the case to break down the strong evidence developed by the prosecution's little girl witnesses.

Immediately after court opened today, attorneys of both sides consulted, resulting in an agreement to let Vaughn confess, in an effort to save his own life, and that the case would go to the jury without argument.

"I have acted devilishly; I have acted shamelessly," began Vaughn.

Vaughn was expelled from his Odd Fellows lodge, and this order is pushing the prosecution. Governor Bleas has provided for his trial by ordering a special term of the court of general sessions, appointing R. O. Purdy special judge. Vaughn is married.

Jao C. Satterfield, living near Blairsville, Ga., says "Some time ago ray back ached so terribly I could hardly walk. My heart action was bad and I feared I was in for a spell of rheumatism. I was advised to buy Foley's Kidney Pills, and after taking one bottle I was entirely cured." Sold by Franklin Drug Co.—Adv.

If the proposed short trousers for men come into style we may be able to see how some men support themselves.

C. E. Atkinson, Harlan, Ga., reports that he has been a constant user of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in his family for years, "because it gives them relief from coughs and colds immediately, and I regard it an infallible remedy and a safe one for our children." Sold by Franklin Drug Co.—Adv.

An eastern girl has lost her power of speech because of being jilted by her sweetheart. He'll probably want to marry her now.

JUDGE'S FATHER DEAD; COURT IS ADJOURNED

THIRD MONDAY IN DECEMBER WILL RECONVENE

On account of the death of Judge Rawlings' father at Sandersville during Monday night, superior court did not reconvene yesterday morning, and Judge B. T. Rawlings left on the 8 o'clock train for his home. Before leaving he made the statement to the court officials and members of the bar that an adjourned term of the court will be held on the third Monday in December, which is the earliest date the judge will have.

Judge Rawlings received the first intimation of his father's illness shortly after his arrival Sunday night. Monday morning he received word that his condition was improved, and he decided to continue with the court, hoping later news would continue favorable.

The announcement of his father's death was a sad blow to the judge, and his friends unite in their sympathy for his bereavement.

The deceased was about 80 years of age, and his sudden death was due to paralysis.

Grand Jury Completed

By Addition of Talesmen

The tangle in the grand jury list as published last week, occasioned by the drawing last April of a number of names who were eligible only as traverse jurors, was easily straightened by Judge Rawlings Monday morning. Of the thirty grand jurors, only eleven were eligible for duty, and of that number only six answered to the roll call.

Retaining these, the sheriff was required to catch twelve others, making the required eighteen, with which number the grand jury was organized. The following named composed the jury, the first six being those who were regularly drawn at last term of court:

T. B. Thorne, E. L. Trappell, Milenton Smith, W. A. Slater, E. C. Oliver, J. H. Bradley, W. H. Simmons, J. G. Brannen, J. B. Rushing, John Wilcox, H. S. Parrish, M. J. Bowen, D. A. Beasley, J. W. Wilson, sr., M. J. Rushing, J. B. Lee, S. L. Neill, S. F. Olliff, J. B. Lee was elected foreman.

J. H. Bradley, clerk, and Geo. R. Beasley, bailiff.

Time wasted in telling people they are going to hell sure could be spent in making this old world a more pleasant place to live in.

START YOUR LIVER; DON'T STOP WORK

Dodson's Liver Tonic Acts Mildly, But Surely—Lifts up Your Liver and You Stay on Your Feet

It is the experience of calomel users that if they take enough of the drug to have the desired effect, it seriously interferes with their work the day after. But this is the least important item, for calomel is often a dangerous drug and acts on the system violently.

Don't take chances with calomel. Get a bottle of the pleasant, safe and perfectly harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic, guaranteed to take the place of calomel. Instead of making you feel worse the next day it makes you feel better—and you actually are better, for no medicine in the whole world lives up to the liver regulator's claims.

Remember, if you feel constipated and bilious, what you need is Dodson's Liver Tonic. A large bottle and a good guarantee for 50 cents from W. H. Ellis Co.—Adv.

DEMOCRATS URGED TO VOTE IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

REPUBLICANS AND PROGRESSIVES ALSO HAVE CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 26, 1912. To the DEMOCRATS OF THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF GEORGIA: On Tuesday, November 5th, the election of a representative in congress and of presidential electors to cast the vote of Georgia for president and vice-president of the United States will take place. There are a number of very urgent reasons why every loyal democrat should turn out and vote on that date.

First, the republican party has put out a candidate in opposition to the regular democratic nominee for congress, Hon. Chas. G. Edwards. While there is every reason to anticipate that the republican candidate will be overwhelmingly defeated, the only safe course is for every democrat to go to the polls and cast his vote, thereby making sure the election of the democratic nominee, and at the same time making sure of a very large majority for him. Overconfidence has caused many defeats, and we cannot afford to take chances on matters of such importance.

In the second place, we are confronted with a peculiar and unfamiliar situation respecting the choice of presidential electors in that there are three tickets in the field instead of two as has been the rule heretofore. The democrats, republicans and progressives, or "Bull Moose" party, have each a list of presidential electors to be voted on in the November election.

In order that the electoral vote of Georgia be cast for Wilson and Marshall, our nominees for president and vice-president, it will be necessary that the democratic electors receive a majority of the entire votes cast, or in other words, a greater vote than that of the combined vote of the two opposition parties. If the democratic electors do not receive a majority of the entire votes cast, the law requires the governor to call a special session of the legislature to select presidential electors. This would not only be a great expense to the taxpayers, but would place the democracy of Georgia in a most humiliating position in that it would be the first time in several decades that the voters of Georgia had failed to select democratic presidential electors. And in view of a great promise and hope of a democratic victory this year, it is peculiarly important that we run no risks and take no chances.

Our nominees for the presidency and vice-presidency are universally regarded as men of the highest type both as to ability and character. Governor Wilson spent practically all of his boyhood in Georgia, married in Georgia, started out in life in a Georgia city, and two of his children were born in this state. It should therefore be the matter of especial pride for the democrats of Georgia to give him as great a majority as possible over the combined Taft and Roosevelt forces.

For the foregoing and many other reasons, it is sincerely hoped that every member of our party will not only go to the polls early on the morning of November 5th and cast his vote for the democratic nominees, but that he will also endeavor to have all of his friends do likewise.

Very respectfully,

ROBT. M. HITCH, Chairman Dem. Ex. Com. 1st Con. Dist. of Ga.

ROBBERS MAKE RAID ON METTER HARDWARE CO.

GUNS, PISTOLS, RAZORS AND KNIVES ARE BOOTY OF THIEVES

Thieves entered the store of the Metter Hardware & Hardware Co. last Friday night and carried away about $200 worth of booty, consisting of shotguns, pistols, pocket-knives and razors.

Entrance was gained into the store from underneath. With an auger three or four planks were cut in two, after which their removal was easy. Ten or a dozen pistols were taken, two or three shotguns, fifty or more pocket-knives and several razors, the total value approximately $200.

The burglary was discovered by Mr. Acosta when he opened his place of business Saturday morning. Two or three hours later a constable from a nearby district with a trained bloodhound was on the scene and pursuit was begun. Tracks were followed two or three hundred yards distant where there was evidence of the robbers having gotten into a buggy and fled. The buggy track was followed in a circuitous route by the dog for five or six miles, leading to the residence of two well known young white men who were away from home at the time. Lacking authority to search the premises, the party returned to Metter for a search warrant and returned in the afternoon, but failed to find any of the missing merchandise or other evidence upon which to base an arrest. It is understood that a private detective has been employed to ferret out the guilty persons.
